Presidents' Message

Greetings on the second sunny, rain free, normal temperature day of October. That may be a bit of an exaggeration, but not much. Since our last newsletter, much has been happening in our branch. Hope you were able to attend the general meeting with poet, Laura Van Prooyen, a Career Development Recipient for the Educational Foundation as we were able to see the fruits of our labors from our many garage sales.

The Memoir Writing group seems to be off to a great start and would welcome any one else interested in pursuing some memory-jogging. The actual writing is done when time permits after the meetings in the peace and quiet of your own home.

Our Evening Book Group that meets on the fourth Wednesday of each month –except November- was treated to a WONDERFUL CELEBRATION of the forty-plus years of existence at the Elgin Historical Society by Sara Ellen Anderson. The group started in the fall of 1967 as part of a two-year study group on 'Testing Values in a Changing Society'. This group was led by Betty Medearis.

What a nice fund-raiser the Huntley Branch had at Randall Oaks Golf Club with both Eleanor and Franklin Roosevelt sharing memories to celebrate Eleanor's 125th birthday. Several from our branch attended and had a wonderful evening.

Be sure to attend November study groups as there is NO branch meeting in November.

We are also invited to celebrate Jane Addams at a special event December 6th, 2009 sponsored by the AAUW-IL. There are a limited number of reservations available, so don't delay.

Memoir Writing Group

The Memoir Writing Group will meet on November 18 at 2:00 PM at my house, 653 Park Street, in Elgin. Interested people should email me at garethsitz@sbcglobal.net or call me at 847-695-6719 for details about our group and what's entailed.

Gareth Sitz

AAUW Theatre Group

On Sunday, Nov. 1, we will be going to see Romeo and Juliet. Shakespeare's timeless story of love and passion gets a new look in Janus Theatre's all-female production. Fast-paced and intense, this version of the play promises to shed new light on this classic love story.

We will meet at 4:30 pm at the home of Jeanne Hebeisen, 602 Prospect, Elgin. The director, Sean Hargadon, will speak to us at 5 pm, followed by a potluck dinner. The performance begins at 7 pm and will end with a question and answer period with the cast.

The performance will be at Elgin Art Showcase, 164 Division Street in downtown Elgin. Please let Medina (medinag@gmail.com or 847 695-1316) know by Oct 28 if you will be able to attend and what you plan to bring. More information about the show is available at janustheatre.wordpress.com.

The next play we will be going to see is Broken Eggs by the Cuban playwright Eduardo Machado running in the Second Space Theatre at ECC from November 6-22. We will be going on Sunday, November 14, at 8 pm. Since this follows so closely to Romeo and Juliet, we will not do a potluck, but if you want to get together afterwards at the Colonial Café or another nearby restaurant, I am open for that.

It's 1979 and Cuban-born Lizette Marquez is about to marry a nice Jewish boy in an opulent ceremony at Woodland Hills Country Club. While she and her extended family enjoy and over-indulge in the fruits of material success, they cling to fantasies of a pre-Castro society, unable to feel truly at home in their adopted country. Machado's "strong comic voice" yields "bright observations" (New York Times) on family, tradition, and history.

Tickets are $11 adults/ $9 students and seniors and may be ordered online at Elgin.edu for a fee, or by calling or emailing Medina by Nov 10. If enough people are interested, I will ask for a talk-back with the actors after the show.

Congratulations to Libby!

Congratulations to Libby Hoefl who has been named one of US Congresswoman Melissa Bean's "winning women of 2009." Libby has contributed enormously to her profession and to every organization with which she has been affiliated. It is wonderful that she will be one of eight women honored at a special reception on November 9.

Libby, your fellow AAUW members are proud of you!

REVOLUTIONARY ROAD

Nov. 24 6 PM

Although a feel-good movie it definitely is not, Revolutionary Road, based on Richard Yates' highly acclaimed 1961 novel of the same name, is one well-worth seeing, for it recreates the malaise felt by many a woman in the affluent suburbs of the 1950s. Soon-to-be-thirty April (Kate Winslet), however, believes moving to Paris, France, is the solution, and her husband (Leonardo DiCaprio), who hates his job, seems willing to go along with her plans. As will become increasingly apparent throughout the film, however, this is "less an anti-suburban" story than one about people who blame their unhappiness on the suburbs.

AAUW Travel Program

AAUW member and owner of one of AAUW's newest partners, Ann Hite of TravelSmart Partners, has created Learn & Explore, a new international travel program for fellow AAUW members. This travel series has been designed to expand knowledge and understanding of women in other areas of the world and of the issues that are important to them. Each tour will focus on exploring the customs and culture of the region, with an emphasis on current and historical barriers faced by women and the creative ways women have broken through those barriers. The first tour in this travel series, Vietnam and Cambodia, will be hosted by AAUW President Carolyn Garfein and goes from February 19 through March 7, 2010. Reservations must be made by December 18, 2009. For more information as well as to make reservations, go to www.travelsmartpartners.com/aauw or call 1-800-670-6984.
